

My five months in Industry

Caitlin Adams

Choice (noun)

1. the act or instance of choosing
2. the right, power, or opportunity to choose

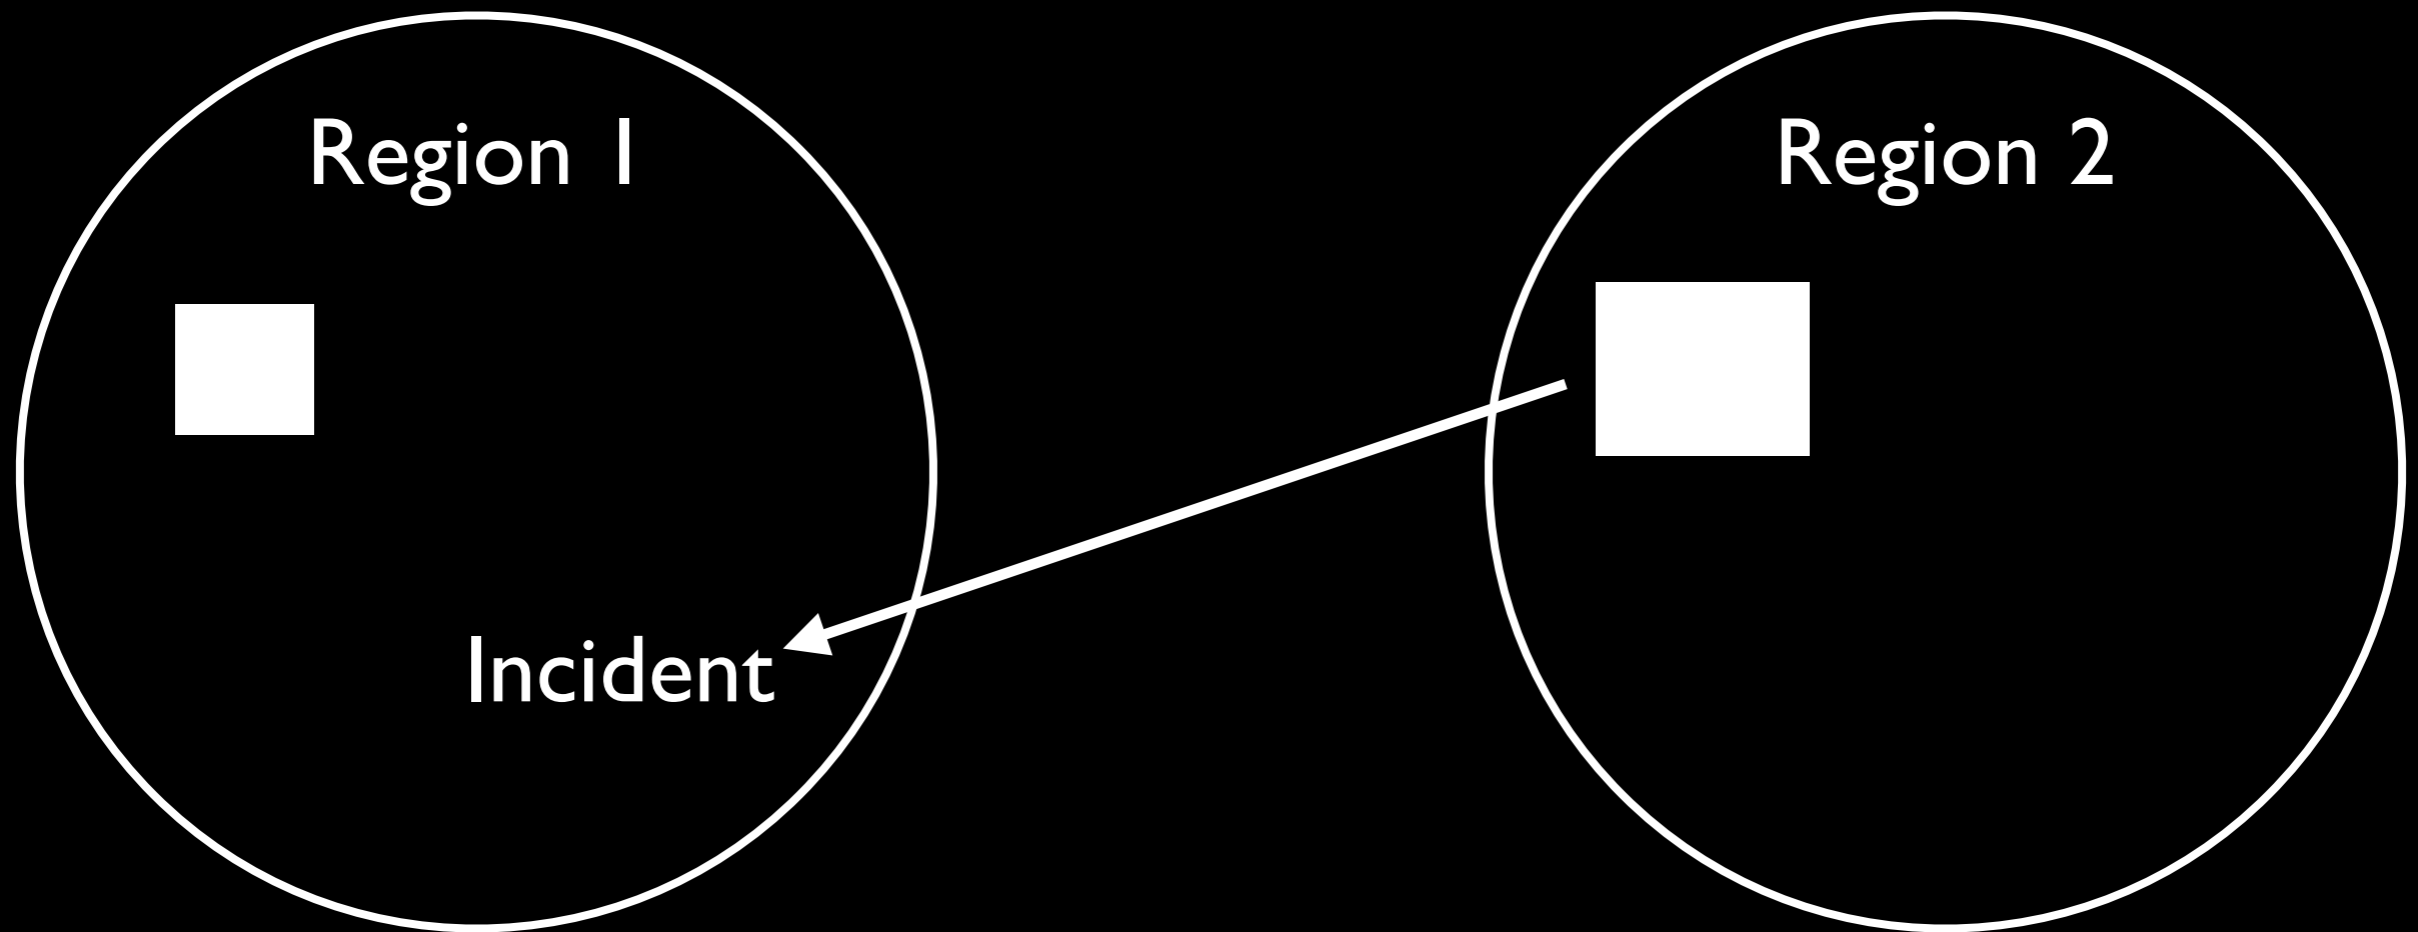

- Mathematical and statistical modelling
- Systems thinking
- Resource management and decision making
- Government and industry clients

Working for Victoria Police

How many recruits do they need?

Where should they put them?

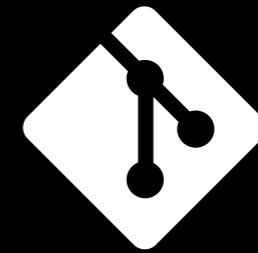

Understanding the system

Which station needs more resources?

Key responsibilities

- Project and software management
- New analysis modules for existing code
- Updated older code to reflect new R standards
- Communicated our progress with clients

git

Transferable Skills

- Communication — both internally and with clients
- Organisation and project management
- Translate solutions/processes into code
- Ability to quickly pick up new topics or skills

Positive aspects

- My role is shaped by my interests
- Flexible working hours and arrangements
- Small, highly-integrated team
- Rewarding work

Choice (noun)

1. the act or instance of choosing
2. the right, power, or opportunity to choose